James Horan/Destination NSW for the Blue Mountains

TOP THINGS TO DO

James Horan/Destination NSW for the Blue Mountains

Breathtaking panoramas of giant ravines, sandstone plateaus, piercing pinnacles, vast forests and cascading waterfalls, and journeys into 340 million-year-old cathedral caves, are the amazing highlights of this World Heritage wilderness, near Sydney.

Three Sisters

The Three Sisters are a famous rock formation in the Blue Mountains.

Offering panoramic views into the Jamison Valley, these three rocky pinnacles on the edge of the escarpment at Echo Point, Katoomba, have become an iconic symbol for the Blue Mountains. The Three Sisters can be viewed from the main Echo Point lookout or the Queen Elizabeth and Prince of Wales lookouts on the lower levels. A walk from behind the Echo Point Visitor Information Centre will lead you to the top of the Three Sisters via Honeymoon Bridge from the Giant Stairway.

Scenic World

At Scenic World you choose how you take in the spectacular sites of the Three Sisters, Katoomba Falls and Jamison Valley.

Impressive 360-degree views are the highlight of Scenic Skyway's glass-bottomed carriage.

Travelling 270 metres above ancient ravines, it's Australia's highest cable car. You can also ride on Scenic Railway, the steepest passenger railway in the world, and discover the thrill of a 52-degree incline. For a more gentle experience, descend into the valleys on Scenic Cableway to see nature at its most spectacular and then amble along the 2.4 km elevated Scenic Walkway through a towering Jurassic rainforest.

Unlimited rides on all four experiences are included in the one ticket price.

THE TOWNS OF THE BLUE MOUNTAINS

Hamilton Lund/Destination NSW for the Blue Mountains

The majestic Blue Mountains have lured travellers for decades. Named a World Heritage site in 2000, the Greater Blue Mountains World Heritage Area contains eight national parks and protected areas, four internationally significant wetlands and a rich cultural tradition of some six Aboriginal groups dating back many thousands of years. More than 1,500 species of plants and a third of Australia's bird species live in an area ten times older than the Grand Canyon. With luxury retreats, charming villages and towns, and a flourishing artistic community, it's easy to see why the Blue Mountains are a sanctuary for explorers, adventurers and those seeking tranquillity.

Blackheath

This small town is great for enjoying crisp mountain air, brisk walks, good food and cosy accommodation. The village is on an escarpment that has spectacular mountain scenery on both sides. Govetts Leap Lookout, Evans Lookout and Hargraves Lookout are high-elevation viewing platforms from where you can observe the natural wonder of this World Heritage area.

Internet: www.visitnsw.com/destinations/blue-mountains/katoomba-area/blackheath

Katoomba

The spectacular scenery of the Blue Mountains surrounds this historic town. Scenic and secluded, Katoomba offers you an opportunity to relax, unwind and recharge, and it's a great base from which to explore the rest of the World Heritage region. You can admire deep valleys, sandstone plateaus, waterfalls and native animals from the many walking trails and lookouts near Katoomba.

Leura

Known as the "garden village", this picturesque town has many fine gardens and grand old homes. Don't miss the celebrated National Trust-listed Everglades Gardens, a 1930s treasure featuring European-style gardens. The beautiful natural attractions around Leura are best seen from lookouts at the end of any number of cliff top walking trails. And the village delights shoppers with all manner of boutiques and gourmet food at the many cafés and restaurants.

CAFÉS

James Horan/Destination NSW for the Blue Mountains

Café society is thriving in the Blue Mountains. Enjoy quality coffee and tea as well as gourmet breakfast and lunch. For a relaxed sip, take a moment in this splendid panorama of mountains and forests, and enjoy the invigorating crisp air and the subtle natural fragrance of eucalyptus.

Bakehouse on Wentworth Springwood

Bakehouse on Wentworth is an organic sourdough bakery and cafe. The dream became reality in 2002, when a passionate baker, dedicated to his craft opened for business in Blackheath. Shelves stocked with a display of hand moulded sourdough loaves and the scent of freshly baked bread filling the streets, enticed the senses of passers by.

Sweet, tempting cakes, irresistible treats and mouth watering gourmet pies were created to complete the bakeries range. The journey has continued and the dream has expanded to four retail outlets.

TOURIST INFORMATION

James Horan/Destination NSW for the Blue Mountains

The majestic Blue Mountains are easy to reach from Sydney. Discover the region at your own pace by renting a car, or join one of the many tours that explore this World Heritage-listed wilderness. You can even take a train from Sydney's Central Station to the Blue Mountains - the trip to Katoomba is only two hours.

Airport

For visitors travelling from overseas, the nearest airport is Sydney Airport. From there, the best means to travel to the Blue Mountains is by car - about a 50-minute drive to the entrance at Glenbrook. Follow the signs to Parramatta and take the M4 Motorway at Strathfield through to Lapstone and the Blue Mountains.

The trip to Leura or Katoomba takes about 90 minutes from the airport. If you're travelling by car, take the M4 Motorway out of Sydney or take the longer, meandering route via Windsor and Kurrajong along the Bells Line of Road. The rise from the coastal plain begins at Glenbrook, 65km west of Sydney, and the road passes through many small towns along the way to Leura, Katoomba and on to Blackheath. The iconic rock formation known as the Three Sisters is at Echo Point, Katoomba.

Alternative routes will take you on a more scenic path via Bells Line of Road through Richmond and Mount Tomah, to Bell and across to Mount Victoria. It's a delightful drive and a different introduction to the vast Blue Mountains National Park compared to the Great Western Highway. If coming from the outer west, follow the signs to Lithgow, go through Hartley and enter the Blue Mountains through Victoria Pass which will take you straight to the top of Mount Victoria.

Public Transport

Although having a car in the Blue Mountains offers a far greater opportunity to see the sights, travelling by public transport to your destination offers a relaxing alternative. An efficient rail service takes you directly from Sydney Airport to Central Railway Station. Shuttle buses from the airport also take you to Central Station. From here, trains serviced by Transport NSW take you to the Blue Mountains - Wentworth Falls, Leura, Katoomba, Blackheath, Mount Victoria and Lithgow. They run regularly and more frequently during peak commuter times. For more details visit:

<http://www.transportnsw.info/>

Once you arrive in the Blue Mountains, there are various transport options.

You can take a red double-decker Explorer Bus to the top 30 attractions with a ticket that gives you all-day access to the hop-on, hop-off bus. For more information visit www.explorerbus.com.au

The Blue Mountains Bus Company operates the hop-on, hop-off Trolley Tours around the Katoomba and Leura areas and a public transport system. You can also reserve seats for a bus to the Jenolan Caves. Go to www.bmbc.com.au for schedules.

Greyhound buses also have daily scheduled services which leave Central Station for Katoomba and Lithgow. Visit www.greyhound.com.au
