Nestled within the lush Al-Ahsa Oasis in the Eastern Province of Saudi Arabia, the city of Hofuf (itself known as Al-Ahsa or Al-Hasa) sprawls over the palm-tree covered lands inhabited since the prehistoric times. Hofuf is packed with historic sites, architectural monuments and natural wonders, from forts and palaces to the whimsical Qara Mountain Caves and natural springs.

THE CITY

Araheem67 (image cropped)

Al-Ahsa Oasis containing the city of Hofuf boasts a staggering estimate of one and a half million date palm trees, which has turned Hofuf into a leading producer of dates worldwide. The abundance of this sweet fruit isn't its only pride - Al-Ahsa has been inhabited from time immemorial due to its relatively favorable climate and abundance of natural water springs (Al-Jawhariah, Al-Khodoud and Um Sabah, as well as the Al-Harah hot springs), and traces of ancient life can still be seen in the archaeological sites scattered throughout the oasis.

Some of the area's main attractions include the mysterious mountain caves of Qara, Ibrahim Palace (the province's main administrative center and architectural monument), the historic Al-Qaisariyah Market (one of the finest souks in the Kingdom) and Al-Ahsa National Park. Hofuf is located only an hour-long train ride away from the coastal town of Uqair known for its pristine beach, which makes for a perfect weekend seaside getaway.

DO & SEE

Sergei25/Shutterstock.com

The Al-Ahsa Oasis (Asia's largest) is an attraction of its own - the area has recently been nominated to officially become one of the Seven Wonders of the World due to its unique position at the crossroads of historic trade routes and natural diversity. A great way to get a bird's eye view of the oasis is to climb the Qara Mountain (do not miss the famous Qara Caves en route), from where the incredible sight of hundreds of thousands of date palms unfolds. In Hofuf, the must-dos are the authentic, well-preserved Qaisariah Souq, Ibrahim Palace and (for history buffs) the Al-Ahsa Museum for Antiquities and Heritage.

Qaisariah Souq

The Qaisariah Souq is a cultural attraction just as much as a shopping venue - the souq is well-preserved to reflect the spirit of ancient times, Arabic architecture and traditional markets. Vendors sell all manner of things (fabrics, crafts, spices, etc.) in the unique, old-time atmosphere of the souq.

Al Ahsa National Park

The National Park is a beautiful green oasis located in the area of Umran, in close proximity to the Qara Mountain. Originally planned to prevent desert sands being blown into the city of Umran, the park has now transformed into a family-friendly green destination. The park welcomes visitors to its green spaces, playgrounds, recreation areas and even swimming pools all through the day.

Uqair Beach

An hour long train ride east from the Hofuf railway station is the ancient fort of Uqair and Uqair Beach - a stretch of land perfectly fit for a beach day trip from Hofuf. There is little infrastructure in the area, so prepare everything you may need in advance - including swimming gear and snacks.

Address: Uqair, Saudi Arabia

Al-Qara Caves

The extraordinary rock formations and caves of Al-Qara are, perhaps, the most prominent landmark of the region and deserve a day trip of their own.

Wandering through the maze is pleasant any time of year - the caves stay cool during summer, warm throughout the winter months and the mountaintop offer unobstructed views of the beautiful palm oasis beneath. The legend has it, these caves is where Judas ended his life after the biblical betrayal.

Ibrahim Palace

A monument of Ottoman architecture, the palace is an ancient fort with walls built from then-common materials of mud and straw. There is a small museum of Ottoman artifacts and a mosque on its premises, and the palace is open to visitors all days of the week.

Address: King Faisal Road, Hofuf

DINING

wong yu liang/Shutterstock.com

Grains such as wheat or rice and meats (mutton is common in the Eastern Province) constitute the bulk of Saudi cuisine (pork is normally not served in the country, as its consumption is forbidden by Islam). Milk is often used in local cooking, and dates constitute a dessert staple. A "Kabsa" dish made up of rice, fish and shrimp is typical of the area. There is no shortage of restaurants serving all manner of cuisines in Hofuf; most have separate designated areas for families and singles.

Topaz

Hofuf is not a city distinguished by a huge variety of fine dining establishments, and Topaz would certainly be a good choice for those looking to visit a higher end establishment. The menu is extensive and varied, and includes Middle Eastern and international dishes.

Address: Al Khalij Road, Al Muthallath, Hofuf
Phone: +966 13 580 8888

Bharat Indian Kitchen

Bharat is a celebrated local restaurant that serves Indian classics, and is hailed as the best Indian restaurant in town. The extensive menu includes a variety of vegetarian and meat-based dishes (do not miss the "biryani"). The seating area ambiance is pleasant, too.

Address: Al Khalij Road, Al Muthallath, Hofuf

Bun & Patty

Bun & Patty is burger joint where locals come to get their fix of a burger and chilli cheese fries. A number of burger varieties are on offer, and the option of adding extra cheese to any of those is always at hand. Other fast-food classics are served here, too.

Address: Prince Talal Bin Abdulaziz Street, Hofuf

CAFÉS

Zadorozhnyi Viktor/Shutterstock.com

Dates reign king in foods typical of the Eastern Province, and dishes served at Hofuf's cafés are no exception. Molasses extracted from dates is used for preparing porridge (a local diet staple). Menus of most establishments (from small locales to international chains) feature date-based desserts. Much as elsewhere in Saudi Arabia, fruit juices and smoothies are very popular.

Bayt Jaddi

Located not far from Hofuf Mall (at the crossing of Abu Baka as Siddiq and Kind Abdulayiy Road), this eatery is a locals' darling. The place serves tapas-style Middle Eastern dishes and snack foods, and is a popular choice for breakfast (cheese-stuffed omelettes are a hit).

Address: King Abdulaziz Road, Al Hofuf
Phone: +966 13 586 5009

Cafe De Ville

Located in the Al Mubarraz neighborhood, Cafe De Ville is known for its desserts; the carrot cake in particular seems to keep patrons coming back for more. Savory foods, such as burgers, fries, sandwiches and chicken strips are just some of the menu items.

Address: Ta'az Street, Al Shurofiyah, Al Mubarraz
Phone: +966 3 531 1966

La Terrasse Café

Expect a short wait to be sated at this upscale café, for there is often a line of repeat customers at the door. The menu is Italian-inspired, with "risotto balls" being held in high regard by customers. Desserts are decadent - try the chocolate or date pudding.

Address: Prince Talal Bin Abdulaziz Street, Hofuf

Vitamine Palace

Vitamine Palace attracts visitors with its enticing display of fresh colorful fruit, and offers a large variety of fruit juices and smoothies. The café offers a few meal options, too - traditional Arabic shawarma, sandwiches and other dishes are available to order.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

Natalia Klenova/Shutterstock.com

The cultural environment in Saudi Arabia is highly conservative. Religious law forbids the sale or consumption of alcohol throughout Saudi Arabia, so there are no bars or nightclubs. Instead evening social activities are centred on shopping or dining out in one of the city's many restaurants or cafés whilst indulging in a delicious mocktail (a mix of fresh fruit juices) or strong Arabic coffee.

SHOPPING

Laborant/Shutterstock.com

From one of Saudi Arabia's most famous historic souks to high-rise modern malls - there is no shortage of shopping opportunities in Hofuf. Locally produced products include, of course, dates and their derivatives, as well as clothing and textiles, coffee pots and jewelry. Please mind that some stores allow entry to women or families only (a sign will normally be displayed in the front window).

Traditional Village Market

The Traditional Village Market is a shopping area with everything from clothing and jewelry to electronics and furniture on sale. Quite a few vendors sell hand-made items, carpets and various traditional crafts. There are a few cozy restaurants and cafés on site, as well as recreation and entrainment areas for kids.
