Named European Capital of Culture in 2008, Liverpool has something exciting to offer to anyone: from a passion for football and music (it holds a Guinness World Record as the World Capital of Pop), to stunning architecture and an important maritime heritage. What's more, the people of Liverpool feel a burning love for their city, and they'll be excited to share it with you.

THE CITY

ahisgett / Flickr.com (image cropped)

Most famous for its cathedrals, the Albert Dock, football, and for having been home to the Beatles, the city of Liverpool has a strong and interesting past but is constantly evolving, even more since it has won the prestigious award of European Capital of Culture in 2008.

Your experience in the city will be made even better by the people of Liverpool, known as 'Liverpudlians' or 'Scousers', who are cheerful and friendly with visitors.

DO & SEE

andreeg2001 / Pixabay.com

The city's most popular sons are undoubtedly the Beatles, and the city attracts many visitors to follow their journey from their first gig in the Tavern and to their way to international stardom. But Liverpool is more than just the Beatles: it is also home to two top football clubs, Everton FC and Liverpool FC, the latter being amongst the most celebrated clubs in Europe with 18 League titles and 5 European Cup titles. Learning more about the city's historic sights and architecture is also recommended.

SHOPPING

Free-Photos / Pixabay.com

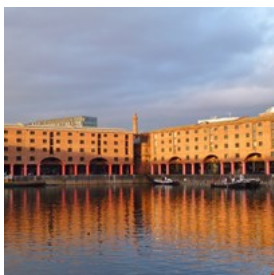

Shopping in Liverpool is a great experience. Most of the shops are located near the main streets in Williamson Square; however, there are a couple of very good side streets which house more unusual boutiques and shops, unique to Liverpool as well. The Liverpoolians are extremely style-conscious and also very big on brand names. It is therefore natural to find most high-end shops having at least one outlet in the city.

The shopping centres in Clayton Square and St. Johns shopping centre are also worth a visit, and just outside Liverpool is one of Europe's largest designer outlets, Cheshire Oaks.

The Albert Dock also offers very trendy shops and has everything from clothing to furniture stores. If you need something different, you will need to head for Chinatown. Every Sunday they have a large Chinese market there that sells everything from cooking pots to fresh meat sausages.

Albert Dock

Originally built in 1846 as the first enclosed non-combustible dock warehouse system in the world, today Albert Dock features several museums, gigs, galleries, Beatles sights, restaurants and shops.

Best Time to Visit

The peak season for visiting Liverpool is late spring and summer, which is when you'll be able to take advantage of the warmest weather (up to 20°C). Earlier in spring or the first weeks of autumn are good alternatives if you want to find fewer crowds, but still decent weather. Being a seaside city, Liverpool has a maritime climate, which means summers are warm and winters are not extremely cold; however, the weather can be unpredictable - make sure you take a look at the forecast before packing.

Liverpool John Lennon Airport

Liverpool John Lennon Airport is situated 7 miles southeast of the city centre. You can reach the airport and city centre by bus, train, taxi, or car.

Buses depart into town every 20 minutes on weekdays and every 30 minutes on weekends, the journey takes about 45 minutes.

You can reach train stations by bus. Trains depart several times per hour to the city centre and other nearby towns.

You can also catch a taxi to reach the city centre. The journey takes about 20 minutes.

Public Transport

Many of the city's main attractions are within easy reach from the town centre, so you can choose to bring a comfortable pair of shoes and explore them by foot. Anyway, public transport runs frequently throughout the day and a small number of bus services operate at night. The city's two bus stations are on Roe Street and Paradise Street, closer to town centre. There is also an underground system that operates between Liverpool's four main train stations (Lime Street, Central Station, James Street and Moorfields).
