liseykina/Shutterstock.com

The sun shines almost all year round in Malta. The island boasts some of the fairest temperatures in the world. Add to that the fantastic beaches and superb Mediterranean cuisine, and there is barely a destination to compete. Together with its neighbouring islands, relaxing beach, and vibrant nightlife, Malta is a wonderful island to visit any time of the year.

THE ISLAND

Leonid Andronov/Shutterstock.com

The Island of Malta is an archipelago in the warm Mediterranean waters, some 93 km south of Sicily. Only the three largest islands Malta, Gozo (Għawdex), and Comino (Kemmuna) are inhabited. Numerous bays along the indented coastline of the islands provide good harbours while the landscape is characterized by low hills with terraced fields.

Malta is not just sun and beaches: historical Malta offers unique megalithic temples, fortified cities and other unique monuments. Valletta, the capital of Malta, has been listed as a UNESCO world heritage site due to the various monumental buildings. It is a baroque city which has often been described as an open-air museum due to the amount of historic buildings it packs. As a consequence of the strong historic and cultural links to Britain, Malta is bilingual, so the great majority of the Maltese can communicate in English.

If you plan your visit for special times like summer Festa season, Easter and carnival, be assured you won't be stuck for what to do - simply join the crowd for some incredible fun.

DO & SEE

Nadezhda1906/Shutterstock.com

There are various places of interest in Malta, and most locations are easily reachable by public transport via Valletta. Plenty of different events are continuously held around the island, especially during the summer months. One of the most spectacular ones is the annual Malta Fireworks Festival in Valletta in the end of April - for three days, different countries and firework suppliers compete in putting on the best firework show; almost every weekend, the different villages hosts religious Festas. For an entire week, they celebrate their saint with church bells, processions, confetti and (at the weekend) they end the folk festival with an outstanding firework show.

Valletta - The Capital of Malta

Valletta, the capital of Malta, was built by the Knights of St John in the 16th-century. It is a baroque city which has often been described as an open-air museum due to the amount of historic buildings concentrated in the area, such as St John's Co-Cathedral and the Grand Harbour, all built by the Knights as well as the over 25 churches all concentrated in an area of 900m x 630m. The city is officially recognised as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Mdina

Mdina, the old capital of Malta, is a typical medieval town situated on one of the highest hills of the island. The “Silent City,” as it is known, commands a magnificent view of the island. It is one of the few remaining fortified Renaissance cities in Europe.

Wied Iz-Zurrieq

Here one can have a swim or visit the Blue Grotto and the surrounding coastline by a trip on the “dghajsa,” a traditional Maltese fishing boat. The Blue Grotto is famous for the clarity of the water and the brilliant colours around the rocks and in the caves.

The Three Cities of Cottonera

Across the Grand Harbour, to the south of Valletta, are the historic fortified towns of Vittoriosa, Cospicua and Senglea, commonly referred to as the three cities of Cottonera. If you only have time for one of them, Vittoriosa is the one most worth a visit. Here you find Fort St

Angelo, the Inquisitor's Palace and the Vittoriosa Waterfront was refurbished in the early 2000's to once again reach up to its former glory.

Address: Cottonera, Malta

Marsaxlokk

Marsaxlokk is the main fishing village of Malta, known for its famous fish market held on the docks every Sunday morning. It's a true spectacle and something you shouldn't miss. It isn't just fish that's on sale here - souvenirs and handicrafts are up for grabs at decent prices too. There are, naturally, a multitude of seafood restaurants in the vicinity.

Megalithic Temples

The remains of temples erected in the fourth and third millennium B.C. are a unique sighting. Stone idols, animal representations carved in relief, stone tablets, altars and screens decorated with spirals and other patterns enhance the attraction of these magnificent sanctuaries. Some of the places worth a visit are Hagar Qim in Qrendi, Tarxien Temples in Tarxien and Ggantija in Gozo.

Diving

Malta is famous for its clear blue water and the perfect conditions for diving. Plenty of reefs, caves and remains of old shipwrecks make it an unforgettable experience. Make use of the chance to go on a boat cruise and head towards one of these spots.

Gozo

The sister island, Gozo, is well worth a visit on its own. Hire a car or book one of the day jeep safari trips that are offered by multiple tour operators.

Upon disembarking, you will immediately notice the difference between the islands. Gozo has a more tranquil atmosphere and is packed with lush farms. While you are here don't miss the Citadel in Victoria, the Saltpans, the Inland Sea and the cliff where the Azure Window (formerly one of the most famous landmarks of Malta) once stood before its collapse in early 2017.

Hal Saflieni Hypogeum

This is a unique pre-historic site, accidentally discovered in 1902. Over 500 square metres of chambers, halls and passages date back to the period between 3600 and 2500 BC. To conserve the stone precaution must be taken, and the number of visitors per day is therefore limited.

Limestone Heritage

The name Malta comes from Italian "Melita", or "honey". The reason for that is quite banal - when sailors first saw Malta, the islands' limestone silhouette appeared dark yellow, not dissimilar to the colour of honey. Limestone Heritage Park & Gardens outline the stone's 22,000,000 year history.

BEACH LIFE

telesniuk/Shutterstock.com

Maltese beaches are predominantly safe and rather well-kept. Good beaches are to be found both in the south and in the north of Malta, so wherever you're staying a nice beach is most probably just few minutes away.

Golden Bay

This beautiful sandy bay is one of the most popular on the Maltese Islands. It attracts large numbers of local and international vacationers annually. The area is excellent walking country, and a perfect venue for those interested in water sports such as windsurfing.

Address: Golden Bay, Malta

Mellieha Bay

This is Malta's largest and most popular sandy beach. There are no undercurrents here so the bay offers safe bathing and the shallow waters make it ideal for children. There is a pleasant choice of activities, from banana boat rides to pedalo hire, windsurfing and water skiing.

Address: Mellieha Bay, Malta

Blue Lagoon

This small beach is located on Comino and to get here you either must have your own boat or book one of the many boat trips going here or around the islands. The sandy beach is really tiny so most people bathe from their boats. The water is crystal clear and it's a perfect place for snorkelling.

Address: Blue Lagoon, Malta

Bugibba

The shore here is rather rocky, which has not barred the resorts' appeal in the least. The flat rocks provide plenty of spots for sunbathing and there are access points for swimmers. The water is clear, deep, and safe for bathing. Located in the north of Malta island.

Address: Bugibba, Malta

Pretty Bay

Pretty Bay is a flourishing seaside resort in the south of Malta. It lies right in the town centre of Birzebbugia so there are plenty of shops and restaurants along the coastline. The resort is rather popular with local holiday-makers thanks to its beautiful sandy beach.

Address: Birzebbugia, Malta

Gnejna Bay

Close to the town Mgarr is the beautiful Gnejna Bay. It is mostly frequented by locals, which makes it less crowded with tourists than many of the other Maltese beaches. Because the waters are so shallow, this is also a great place to come with your entire family.

Address: Gnejna Bay, Malta

Ghajn Tuffieha

Tucked in between Golden Bay and Gnejna Bay is the smaller and quieter sandy beach, Ghajn Tuffieha. The long stairway down to the beach makes it not the easiest to reach, but it is certainly well-worth the climb down. There is a sunbed rental and a small snack bar.

DINING

Nadezhda1906/Shutterstock.com

Eating in Malta is an exuberant experience--take a pick from different dishes ranging from fish and seafood to the traditional rabbit stew. Maltese cuisine reflects the rich cultural heritage of the country, with clearly traceable English and Sicilian (as well as other Mediterranean) influences. Most restaurants offer very good wine lists featuring both local and foreign wines.

Dinner In The Sky Malta

Dinner In The Sky is a once-in-lifetime kind of a experience, an evening of dining on a suspended construction floating above the Maltese capital. This one is not for the faint of heart, but absolutely safe - the set up is sturdy, and guests are required to buckle up prior to "departure."

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

Olga Tselik/Shutterstock.com

The nightlife in Malta is lively, with Paceville, Bugibba, and Sliema known as some of the hot spots that offer a wide range of pubs, clubs, and discos to suit all tastes. The largest clubs often enjoy appearances of world-famous DJ's. During the weekend, pubs and discos normally stay open till four o'clock in the morning.

Fuego Speakeasy

Housed in atmospheric venues, the skilled Fuego DJ's run the music formula whilst animation helps uplift the crowd. Free salsa classes are taught to traditional Latin music. The two clubs are located in the most popular tourist areas of St. Julian's and Qawra.

SHOPPING

Olly/Shutterstock.com

For all your shopping needs the capital city Valletta is the ideal destination. This is where most shops and stores are located, with both local and international brands represented. For those looking to shop for fresh produce, the daily market at 8am is a good place to be. Sliema is another good destination to go shopping. Shops are normally open from 09.00 till 13.00 in the afternoon, and then open again at 16.00 till 19.00. Note that on the following public holidays most of the shops are closed: February 10, March 31, June 7, June 29, August 15, September 21 and December 13.

Shopping in Sliema

Sliema is a good shopping destination, much due to the fact this is the place where the largest shopping centre in Malta - the Plaza Shopping

Centre - is located. Shops are open from 9:00 till 13:00 in the afternoon, and then open again at 16:00, to stay open till 19:00.
