In Munich there is so much more than just the Oktoberfest or Lederhosen. The beautiful bavarian capital has much more to offer. A mixture of exclusive shopping, art, culture, indulgence and tradition makes this city unmistakable. Moreover, Germany's most cheerful residents live here.

THE CITY

City of Munich

In Munich, it's the mix that makes the message. Old meets new, past meets present and future, the modern blends harmoniously with the traditional, bits and bytes with beer, business and leisure. For the visitor, there is never any shortage of sights to see or activities to engage in.

The Bavarian Metropolis with its 1.5 million inhabitants lies virtually at the centre of Europe. Munich's origin goes back to an early settlement of monks from the Tegernsee Monastery which was called "ad Munichen" (the monks' home).

The situation leading to its later growth was treated by an act of violence of Henry the Lion, Duke of Bavaria from the House of Guelph. At that time the salt transports coming from Reichenhall and Hallein had to go over a bridge spanning the Isar River at Föhring north of Munich. The bridge passage was accompanied by a toll, and this traffic brought considerable revenue to the Bishop of Freising in whose territory Föhring was located. Henry the Lion had this bridge destroyed forcing the salt transports to use his new bridge a few miles upstream in ducal territory. On June 14, 1158, the new bridge, the market, the customs office and the mint at "Munichen" were approved by imperial decree thus in one fell swoop the monastic settlement assumed a completely different function. The rapidly prospering town was selected by the ruling family of the Wittelsbach in the middle of the 13th century as its Residence due to a territorial split and in 1294 it was granted a new municipal charter. During the reign of Emperor Ludwig the Bavarian - of the Wittelsbach family - the city extended its walls six fold and in 1504 it finally became the capital of the reunited Duchy of Bavaria. Under the 700 years of Wittelsbach reign as dukes, electors and kings Munich attained increasingly the reputation of being a European centre of culture.

Year after year, Munich takes gold in German city rankings. When asked where they would prefer to live, most Germans say Munich. The reason is simple: a magic combination of a vigorous economy and top-notch leisure time activities and outstanding cultural offerings.

Welcome back to Munich! Since Pentecost holidays in Munich are finally possible again: Hotels and guesthouses can welcome guests again, museums and galleries are open again, Guided tours are again possible, and the catering trade can again entertain guests inside and outside.

We look forward to seeing you again in Munich!

Please continue to keep a safe distance of at least one and a half metres from other people. In addition, wearing a mouth-and-nose protector on public transport as well as in all shops, museums, galleries, exhibitions, etc. is prohibited. It is also compulsory within the catering trade. Non-observance will be prosecuted under criminal law.

DO & SEE

München Tourismus

Munich has come to be associated with the Oktoberfest, the Hofbräuhaus, the Olympic grounds and the Fasching carnival. However, Munich also has an international reputation as a metropolis of both, art and culture. Its music scene ranges from classical to jazz and pop and the many museums display impressive collections.

BMW Welt

Since it opened in 2007, BMW Welt has become one of Bavaria's most popular tourist attractions. Over two million visitors flock here every year to experience the wide range of exhibitions, events, the children's Junior Program and the guided tours.

Through COVID-19, the generally known protective measures apply in all houses, which means, among other things, a distance regulation of at least 1.5 meters as well as compulsory masks. In addition, the total number of people who may stay in the building is limited.

MUCA Museum of Urban and Contemporary Art

Street art as a form of art of the 21st century is rightly considered as a global celebrated phenomenon, nevertheless street art hasn't arrived enough in the art discourse. The newly build Museum of Urban and Contemporary Art (MUCA) wants to make a change by enrolling street art into art history and by building a bridge between the international art scene, artists and the public.

The idea of MUCA is to bring art and its people together to a place of self-reflection, with the main question of what a visionary museum stands for.

Due to COVID-19, new rules of hygiene and conduct apply.

Please note:

Maintain a safe distance of at least one and a half meters from other people. In addition, wearing a mouth-nose protection both on public transport and in all shops, museums, galleries, exhibitions, etc. is mandatory. It is also compulsory within the catering trade. Non-observance will be prosecuted under criminal law.

Alte Utting

A boat in the middle of the city? And it serves as a bar? It took one and a half years from the transport of the MS

Utting to Munich until it opened as a bar, breakfast café, roof terrace and beer garden in July 2018. 400 people fit into the various levels of the ship - from the engine room to the open-air deck. The view from the upper deck into the setting sun makes the Utting the perfect sundown outlook. A wonderful view of the Schlachthofviertel, the wholesale market hall and the whole city.

Due to COVID-19, new hygiene and behavior rules apply.

Please note:

Through COVID-19, the generally known protective measures apply in all houses, which means, among other things, a distance regulation of at least 1.5 meters as well as compulsory masks.

Viktualienmarkt

The Viktualienmarkt is located in the heart of Munich and is the culinary centre of the city. Bakers, butchers, fishmongers, delicatessens and flower stands have made the market a Munich landmark for over 200 years. In addition, the beer garden and the maypole attract many visitors every day.

COVID-19 introduces new rules of conduct. It is mandatory to wear a mouth-nose cover when shopping at all markets - no matter whether in or in front of the stalls. This obligation also applies when crossing or staying on the market areas (no touching of goods and persons on the market).

Exceptions: At the Viktualienmarkt, however, there is no obligation to wear a mask when strolling or crossing the street, as a sufficient distance to the sales points can be maintained. If there is no mouth and nose cover available, a scarf or shawl can be tied in front of the mouth and nose. This applies to all market participants aged six years and older, i.e. traders, salesmen, customers and visitors to the market.

Observance of the minimum distance of 1.5 metres to other people and compliance with the general rules of hygiene.

Eisbachwelle

Surfing in the middle of the city - the Eisbach wave is considered worldwide as the most constant, biggest and best river wave in the middle of a big city. For more than 40 years the surfers have been attracting numerous people. However, only absolute professionals should venture into the water here, because surfing is neither easy nor safe and therefore not suitable for beginners.

The relaxation of the corona restrictions makes it possible: Surfing in the Eisbach is allowed again - but under strict hygiene conditions. As everywhere, a minimum distance of 1.5 metres between two people must be maintained, even in the queues for access to the water. Spectators are not allowed in the Eisbach for the time being.

Kreativquartier (creative quartier)

Dieses Gelände steht für Diversität und Heterogenität. Das Stadtbild hier überrascht mit alten Industriebauten, bunten Graffiti, wild wuchernden Gärten und schafft so eine inspirierende Atmosphäre.

Artists run their studios and open workshops as well as designers run their studios. Rehearsal and performance stages of the independent performing arts can be found as well as institutions and initiatives of artistic and cultural education. Sociology-ecological start-ups research and test alternative social models. Everywhere you can find performances, exhibitions, workshops or concerts. Their content, themes and aesthetics are rarely on the agenda in traditional Munich culture. This site stands for diversity and heterogeneity. The cityscape surprises with old industrial buildings, colorful graffiti, wild gardens and creates an inspiring atmosphere.

Due to COVID-19 there are some changes in the exhibitions.

Bier- und Oktoberfest Museum

Munich is the capital of beer - with seven breweries, the world-famous Hofbräuhaus and the Oktoberfest. Interested in knowing more about the brew? Then the Beer and Oktoberfest Museum is for you: here you will learn all about the history of beer, from the great migration to the monasteries, the brewing and the "purity" law of 1516, and the quality of Munich beer. The Oktoberfest also has a long history, beginning as a national holiday to celebrate the wedding of Ludwig I. with Princess Theresa von Sachsen-Hildburghausen and becoming in time the largest folk festival in the world. The museum also shows the interior of a traditional middle-class Munich home.

SIGHTseeing The original since 1890

City tours in Munich - Day excursions in Bavaria and into Austria: A variety of tours are offered by Gray Line Sightseeing.

Accompanied by professional and experienced guides, Gray Line takes you to the sights you most want to see.

Excursions are operated daily to the dream castles of the fairy tale king Ludwig II. Tours go to the royal castle of Neuschwanstein, majestically situated in the beautiful Bavarian Alps, the palace of Linderhof. Along the world-famous Romantic Road Gray Line takes you to Rothenburg, one of the best-preserved medieval towns in Southern Germany.

Gray Line Sightseeing also takes you to Berchtesgaden where the Eagle's Nest can be viewed. The Austrian town of Salzburg is also an attractive destination. Enjoy the Mozart city of Salzburg and a boat ride on Lake Wolfgang surrounded by beautiful Alpine scenery. Gray Line Sightseeing is also the local expert for Hop On Hop Off city tours and numerous special tours such as "Munich under the 3rd Reich and the German Resistance".

Due to COVID-19, new rules of hygiene and conduct apply.

Please note:

Due to the Corona Pandemic, the city tour will start with limited operation for the time being. From 5 June, the tour programme will be extended with the "FC Bayern Munich" football tour.

Maintain a safe distance of at least one and a half meters from other people. In addition, wearing a mouth-nose protection both on public transport and in all shops, museums, galleries, exhibitions, etc. is mandatory. Obligation. You can find more information at www.stadtrundfahrten-muenchen.de

Oktoberfest

Commencing in the second half of September and for 16 days on, Munich's Theresienwiese transforms into something that might seem like the world's largest fun fair! The Oktoberfest, or "Wiesn" as the locals call it, is a beer festival above all, but also with lots of sale stands and other events and exciting happenings. In 2010, the Oktoberfest celebrated its 200th anniversary. Starts second last Saturday of September and ends on the first Sunday of October. Don't miss the Bavaria and the Hall of Fame on the hill above the Theresienwiese. It was built between 1843 and 1853 and was commissioned by Ludwig I of Bavaria to honour prominent Bavarians to whom the country, science and the arts are indebted.

Please note:

The Oktoberfest cannot take place in 2020 due to the spread of the coronavirus.

Auer Dult - Pottery Market

The Auer Dulten Fairs Traditional fairs held at Mariahilfplatz square in Munich's Au district invite visitors for nine days, three times a year to stroll and look, eat and drink, enjoy and shop. The market has the character of a folk festival and looks back on a long tradition. It was already mentioned in writings from medieval times and is organized by City of Munich. Extending over about 22,000 m² of fairground, the Dult forms an island in the heart of the city where fun and a cozy atmosphere reign. What is probably Europe's largest tableware market, the lanes of merchants and specialist dealers, a Russian wheel and chair o'plane rides as well as many other attractions invite visitors.

The May Dult followed by the Jakobi Dult were cancelled due to the Corona pandemic. However the the Kirchweih Dult is scheduled to take place from October, 17 to October, 25 2020.

DINING

Munich Tourist Office, Foto: Guenther Standl

Perhaps most people associate Munich with beer and there certainly are a lot of breweries and beer halls in the city. But don't miss Munich's classic high-calorie everyday cooking! Haxe is knuckle of pork and it tastes good together with sauerkraut and "Knoedel" (dumplings). We also recommend apple strudel and custard or a Dampfnudel (a kind of cream bun with chocolate or vanilla custard) for dessert.

Hofbräuhaus

Hofbräuhaus is one of Munich's most famous and popular attractions and the brewery has been a source of inspiration for many song texts. Please note that due to the Corona pandemic, you must continue to maintain a safety distance of at least one and a half metres from other people. In addition, the wearing of a mouth and nose protector is mandatory within catering establishments.

Paulaner am Nockerberg

Paulaner am Nockherberg is a popular meeting place for Munich locals, no matter where and when - in the beer garden, in the restaurant or during the traditional strong beer festival. The restaurant under the control of Christian Schottenhamel and Florian Lechner opened its doors again after some time of renovation in February 2018. As a new particularity, the beer is now exclusively brewed for Nockherberg's use in brewing kettles situated inside the restaurant in a central room. Also the menu for the restaurant and the beer garden has been revised. It includes Bavarian classics, but also creations of an innovative Bavarian cuisine.

Please note that due to the Corona pandemic, you must continue to maintain a safety distance of at least one and a half metres from other people. In addition, the wearing of a mouth and nose protector is mandatory within catering establishments.

Viktualienmarkt

Munich's oldest market, originally a farmer's market, is now a favourite shopping area for gourmets. The wide range of produce, which includes Bavarian specialities and exotic delicacies from around the world, gives the historic square its special flair. This is a great place for a lunch snack.

COVID-19 has introduced new rules of conduct. It is mandatory to wear a mouth-nose cover when shopping at all markets - whether in or in front of the stalls. This obligation also applies when crossing or staying on the market areas (no touching of goods and persons on the market).

Exceptions: At the Viktualienmarkt, however, there is no obligation to wear a mask when strolling or crossing the street, as sufficient distance to the sales points can be maintained here. If there is no mouth and nose cover available, a scarf or shawl can be tied in front of the mouth and nose. This applies to all market participants aged six years and older, i.e. traders, salesmen, customers and visitors to the market. Observance of the minimum distance of 1.5 metres to other people and compliance with the general rules of hygiene.

Restaurant Pfistermühle

Not without a good reason, the restaurant „Pfistermühle“ (lit. „Bakery Mill“) calls itself as one of the most beautiful places in Munich's old town. Owner Peter Inselkammer has had the historic vaults dating to the 16th century, in which the grain mill of the „Hofpisterei“ (lit. „Bakery to the Court“) used to be running, elaborately renovated. Since the reopening in mid September 2017, upscale, new interpreted Bavarian cuisine has been offered in the restaurant which belongs to the Hotel Platzl.

Cafe im Vorhoelzer Forum

All in white The chickies are in the majority, but you can turn around and enjoy the view of the city. The Café Vorhoelzer in the architecture faculty of the TU is a place of well-being - despite its simple design.

The Vorhoelzer on the roof of the TU is perhaps the café with the most beautiful view of Munich. On the terrace, the guest has the Königsplatz, Frauenkirche and Theatinerkirche in view, when he now flicks on the deck chairs again in spring and blinks into the light while having a drink.

It was named after the architect Robert Vorhoelzer, later rector of the Technical University, and the furnishings are accordingly stylish. The tables are white, the walls are white, the chairs are white, the bar: it is white. Nevertheless, the rooms are not as sterile as an operating theatre, which is ultimately due to the naked light bulbs dangling from the ceiling. The Café Vorhoelzer is a place of well-being, not only on the sun terrace, but also inside.

There is a breakfast buffet, also later, one can order some little things to eat. Coffee and tea make up a large part of the menu, the waiters do not bring cocktails, but wine, beer, bubbles and the "Schickies" so called on the menu: Sprizz, Hugo, the usual.

It's nothing special, but it still tastes good. The Café Vorhoelzer is not characterized by an ambitious bar, unfortunately it also closes in the evening mostly already at 20 o'clock, only in summer later. But the Vorhoelzer has ambience and view.

Please note that due to the Corona pandemic, you must continue to maintain a safety distance of at least one and a half metres from other people. In addition, the wearing of a mouth and nose protector is compulsory within the catering establishments.

Weinbar Griabig

For more than 150 years, the rooms of the wine bar „Griabig“ had been used as a traditional costumes store. In recent years, the rooms have been vacant.

In August 2018, the two restaurateurs of the restaurant „Gesellschaftsraum“ (lit. „community room“) Holger Baier and Bernd Arnold opened up a laid-back wine bar here in the middle of the old town. Bavarian Gemütlichkeit interpreted in an urban way awaits the guests regarding the interior design. The menu includes a huge number of white wines, red wines and even sorts of rosé wines from the best German, Austrian and Italian wine-growing regions. The prize for one bottle varies from 25 to 130 euros. One glass of white wine is available for 3 euros only.

Please note that due to the Corona pandemic, you must continue to maintain a safety distance of at least one and a half metres from other people. In addition, the wearing of a mouth and nose protector is compulsory within the catering establishments.

SHOPPING

City of Munich

No city break is complete without a good long stroll through the shops. Munich offers absolutely ideal conditions for a great big splurge: haute couture in the Maximilianstrasse, Theatinerstrasse, Residenzstrasse and Brienner Strasse, department and chain stores in the pedestrian precinct, trendy and flamboyant clothes between many galleries in such town districts as the Gärtnerplatz and Glockenbach area, Haidhausen or Schwabing, Bavarian local costumes, handicrafts and souvenirs in specialist shops, delicacies from all over the world at Dallmayr's or Käfer's, the leading delicatessens in Europe, or at the Victuals Market in the heart of the city. Another typical feature of Munich is the number of small shops that concentrate on a few articles, for example, umbrellas, felt, gloves, candles or wood carvings, and which are still to be found in the centre of town.

Munich's ultra-chic shopping area additionally covers Perusastrasse, Residenzstrasse, Brienner Strasse and Odeonsplatz. You will discover gems in the shop belonging to the Nymphenburg Porcelain factory (Odeonsplatz 1), which has been based in Munich for over 250 years. In the district of purveyors to the court, where not only the Bavarian king was a customer, you can go on a regal shopping expedition - from porcelain, jewellery and select delicacies to high-quality shoes and clothing.

The recently opened "Maximilianshöfe" - Maximilian's court yards - will also carry you off into the world of international design. You can take a break from shopping in the columned hall of the former "Marstall" - the royal stables, as a new restaurant has been established in the classified historical building.

Outside the old town centre, for example in Schwabing, Haidhausen, around the Gärtnerplatz and in the Glockenbach area, the shops - and the customers - are quite obviously more unconventional. The Gärtnerplatz and the Glockenbach district are also ideal shopping areas for gays and lesbians. Shop ateliers, boutiques and concept stores, with many cafés and bars in between that are open during the day, invite you to go shopping, to look and enjoy yourself.

Bargain-hunters are in their element at flea markets and designer outlets, or they amuse themselves in search of curiosities and crockery, junk and antiques at an old Munich institution,

Viktualienmarkt / victuals market

The Victuals Market, only a few steps from the Marienplatz, displays its fruit, vegetables, herbs, bread, cheese, wine and many other tasty titbits from all over the world, extending an invitation to enjoy its wares with all the senses. Beer gardens, cafés and flowers in a blaze of colour do their best to beguile the visitor.

Next to the Victuals Market there is the "Schrannenhalle". It was built under King Maximilian I and was originally a market hall where grains were sold. In 1932 it burned down but was rebuilt with the original wrought-iron frames and reopened in September 2005.

COVID-19 introduces new rules of conduct. It is mandatory to wear a mouth-nose cover when shopping at all markets - no matter whether in or in front of the stalls. This obligation also applies when crossing or staying on the market areas (no touching of goods and persons on the market).

Exceptions: At the Viktualienmarkt, however, there is no obligation to wear a mask when strolling or crossing the street, as a sufficient distance to the sales points can be maintained. If there is no mouth and nose cover available, a scarf or shawl can be tied in front of the mouth and nose. This applies to all market participants aged six years and older, i.e. traders, salesmen, customers and visitors to the market.

TOURIST INFORMATION

City of Munich

Airport

Munich Airport (MUC) is about 40 kilometres north of the city. The quickest way to get there is by commuter train (S8 or S1), which take respectively 41 and 35 minutes from Hauptbahnhof. S1 starts running at 03.45 and there is one train every twenty minutes until 23.25. S8 starts its first journey at 03.18 and runs every twenty minutes until 00.38.

The Airport-City bus runs every twenty minutes from Hauptbahnhof (Busbahnhof, Arnulfstr.) and takes just over 40 minutes. Please notice, as the bus route goes via the Autobahn, there is heavy traffic every afternoon and it may take up to 2 hours to get to and from the airport. The first bus from the city centre leaves at 05.10 and the last one is at 19.50. Departures commence from MUC at 06.20 (start Terminal 2) and operates until 21.40.

Due to the global coronavirus pandemic, international air and travel traffic is currently still restricted. To ensure that passengers and guests can travel safely and enjoy a pleasant stay during this period, Munich Airport has implemented numerous hygiene measures. M-WLAN: Free WiFi at Munich open spaces

M-WLAN

M-WLAN is for residents and tourists - or simply for anyone with a mobile internet device. It's for free and it's fairly easy to use at many well-visited places - for example Marienplatz, Odeonsplatz, Stachus or Münchner Freiheit. Just accept the terms of service (TOS) and go. You don't even have to register. You can simple surf the internet for one hour before you're automatically logged off. If you want to browse a couple of more pages

- no problem. Just log right back into M-WLAN.

Please note that due to the Corona pandemic, you must continue to maintain a safety distance of at least one and a half metres from other people. In addition, wearing a mouth and nose protector in public places is mandatory.

Tourist information

The tourist information offices in the town hall and at the main railway station arrange hotel rooms, book city tours and guided tours or provide city maps. The Tourist Information at Marienplatz has been open again since 30.05. The Tourist Information Office at the Central Station is currently closed.

What you have to pay attention to:

Please maintain a safe distance of at least one and a half meters from other people.

It is compulsory to wear a mouth and nose protection in Munich on public transport as well as in all shops, museums, galleries, exhibitions, etc. It is also obligatory within restaurants, beer gardens and cafés as long as you are not sitting at the table. In theaters, concert halls, other stages and cinemas, at conferences and congresses as well as for spectators at sporting events, masks are also compulsory at the seat.

From October 14th until further notice it is compulsory to wear a mask in the pedestrian zone (from 9 am to 11 pm, including Schützenstraße, Stachus and Marienplatz as well as Sendlinger Straße with Sendlinger-Tor-Platz) and at the Viktualienmarkt.

If you have acute questions about the coronavirus during your stay in Munich, please contact the Coronavirus Hotline of the City of Munich: +49 89 233 44740

Electricity

Stadtwerke München (SWM) is firmly rooted in the city of Munich as a regional electricity provider. For more than 100 years, Germany's largest municipal energy supply company has been ensuring a secure, economical and environmentally friendly supply of electricity to Munich.

In comparison to other suppliers, SWM offers a favourable tariff for green electricity. By 2025 they want to produce so much green electricity in their own plants that they can cover the consumption of the whole of Munich. Munich will thus be the first city in the world to reach this goal. This is why SWM is actively promoting the expansion of renewable energy plants.
