Visit Sundsvall

Welcome to Sundsvall!

Sundsvall is the destination for those who want to embellish their holiday in Norrland with shopping and entertainment. Today, this is the home to Norrland's largest city mall and Birsta Shopping Centre, which is one of Sweden's largest out-of-town retail Centre. In the midst of the northern nature, and at the heart of everything, you'll find, perhaps, one of the country's most beautiful city centers with rich ornate post-renaissance stone buildings. Raise your eyes towards the beautiful facades and enjoy!

THE CITY

Visit Sundsvall

If there is a Swedish city that has risen from the ashes like a Phoenix and dazzled the rest of the world with its new splendor, it must be Sundsvall. After the major fire in 1888, the city was rebuilt with the insurance money and contributions from the rich timber magnates. It was built entirely in stone and designed by the leading architects of the time, who took pride in outdoing each other. It would be absolutely impossible to build a similar city today. Back then, Sundsvall was Sweden's Klondike, a city to which thousands of people travelled to seek their fortune and a better life. Today, Sundsvall is a city buzzing with life and activity more than ever. The opportunities to find happiness here have not diminished with the years. Quite the opposite.

Sweden's largest coastal delta is formed at the mouth of the river Indalsälven where it flows into the Gulf of Bothnia. This unique natural environment is best explored on foot or by canoe. Sundsvall-Timrå Airport, the county's largest airport, is located in the middle of the delta, a stone's throw from the magnificent Y sculpture created by the artist Bengt Lindström. Here is also a seaside 18-hole golf course. Timrå is also home to Merlo, the only castle in Norrland, and the beautiful Tynderö peninsula with its many roadside cafés and farm shops along Skeppshamnsgleden. A ten-minute drive south brings you to Birsta Retail Centre and Sundsvall's diverse offerings.

The geographical heart of Sweden is starting to develop into a musical centre. The rock bands Takida and Corroded both originate from Ånge. The beautiful valley of the river Ljungan, dotted with small villages and large manors from the days of the timber magnates, strikes a chord in people's hearts. The result is sweet music.

DO & SEE

Visit Sundsvall

Experience more! There's a lot to see in the Sundsvall region. The natural attractions are just as fascinating as the historical sites. And don't miss the Stone City...

Gudmundstjärn

30 km west of Sundsvall you'll find one of the last preserved self-subsistent households in Sweden.

Between 1779 and 1944 the fields here were farmed by five generations, no roads connecting to the farm. The 22 buildings preserved are listed and the area is a nature reserve.

Nolby Högar

Welcome to a meeting place many thousands of years old, which tells a part of the exciting history of Västernorrland. Enjoy the landscape and the views. Traces from previous generations are practically clear here: burial mounds, house foundations, early medieval church ruin, roads and a runestone bear witness to earlier lives.

The display at Nolby Högars information site communicates about the areas long history. You can read about how the land uplift has changed the landscape over time and how the place has been used by people for thousands of years.

Svartvik Industrial Heritage

Svartvik bears the memories from 200 years of northern Swedish industrial history. From wharves to shipyard, from steam saw production to pulp factory. Today Svartvik is a point of interest with displays of its history, park like environment, playgrounds for the children, one of the oldest water towers in Sweden and a skittle alley, where you can try to play just like the old patrons did during the peak of the wooden industry.

During summer there are an amount of activities happening here. Guided tours are possible to get all year around. Here you also find the manor of Svartvik with its restaurant, Café Svartvik and an antique store.

Merlo Slott

The Merlo Slott, or Villa Merlo that is the building's real name, is a grand, fairytale castle-like house in Timrå, built in 1883-1885 as a summer residence for the timber owner and merchant Fredrik Bünsow, at this time one of Sweden's most powerful business men. The architects were Isak Gustaf Clason and Fritz Eckert. The former is known as the architect behind buildings such as Nordiska museet and Hallwyl House in Stockholm. Today Villa Merlo is the central archive for company SCA (Swedish Cellulose AB). During summer you have the opportunity to go on guided tours and experience the many rooms and halls that still have their former glory preserved. Also, its wonderful garden is well-worth a visit.

Flataklocken - The Geographical Midpoint of Sweden

Around 60 km west of Sundsvall you'll find Flataklocken that in 1947, after different calculations, was decided to be the geographical midpoint of Sweden. This means that if you were to put Sweden on a needle it would be in balance just over the mountain Flataklocken. Now it's a popular tourist destination with a wonderful 360° view over the landscape. Open fireplace areas and a summer café at the top.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

Visit Sundsvall

Sundsvall has many pubs and clubs in a wide variety of styles, all with knowledgeable staff and excellent food. The city also has plenty of watering holes for those who love the nightlife and dancing until dawn. Later during the evenings many restaurants turn into lovely places where the lights turn down and the music up.

Aveny & q.bar

Aveny is the collective name for the three stages and restaurants under the one and same roof. You have Aveny upstairs, Aveny downstairs and q.bar. Here you can eat and drink, dance to live music, move to the sounds of great DJ's, see different artists perform, both new ones and more established artists. Parts of the area you can also hire for private occasions and celebrations.

In the same house you also find Filmstaden, the Movie Theater, and Quality hotel Sundsvall.

Bergafjärdens Camping & Havsbad

Several thousand years ago before the land rising, the big river Ljungan had a different outlet than today. The river poured out in Bergafjärden and created a participant who today is a long and child-friendly sandy beach with hot water that makes the seaside an Eldorado for swimmers, this in combination with the campsite. Here you can have a really lovely and close to nature summer holiday for the whole family as you are close to both the sea and the forest. In addition to cabins of different sizes, there are a variety of caravan sites and tent sites, service houses, restaurant, café, a small shop and adventure mini golf. The campsite is approximately twenty minutes south of Sundsvall, you can easily get here via the E4.
