New England itself is pure charisma. The area is draped by sparkling snow in the winter, swept with fresh seaside air during spring and summer, and painted with the changing colors of its trees during autumn. Waterville Valley, Hew Hampshire is a beacon of these seasons and a proud New England town. Its resort is the focal point, lending to recreational activities throughout the seasons that include skiing, snowboarding, snowshoeing, hiking, mountain biking, swimming and much more.

THE CITY

Robert Linsdell / Flickr (image cropped)

Waterville Valley was incorporated as a New Hampshire town in 1829. This naturally was well before the town became a veritable, year-round resort destination. Its position in the White Mountain National Forest attracted the attention of the accommodation industry, which possessed the foresight to realize the opportunity in Waterville Valley's slopes, hills, mountains and lakes.

Now much activity takes place in the self-contained Waterville Valley Resort. Guests of the resort are thereby given enticing access to instant outdoor adventures throughout the seasons. Go skiing, snowboarding, ice skating, play hockey and more during the winter. In the warmer months, enjoy hiking, fishing, biking, golf and tennis, attending carnivals and partaking in community picnics.

There are also cultural centers aside from the Ski Area, including the Curious George Cottage and The Margret & H.A. Rey Center.

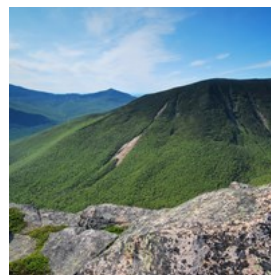

DO & SEE

Jeannette Meier Kamer / Shutterstock.com

As a certifiable resort city, Waterville Valley offers everything under the sun when it comes to recreational activities and natural attractions. Fishing, hiking, biking, and bird watching can all be done in the White Mountain National Forest. The Waterville Valley Resort offers skiing and snowboarding, too, in the winter months. No matter what the season, though, you're sure to have a great time exploring this beautiful part of America.

White Mountain National Forest

The White Mountain National Forest is not only one of New Hampshire's most treasured attractions, but the nation's as well. Its delicate beauty and vicinity to the populace is paired with 1,200 miles of hiking trails, ski areas and 23 campgrounds to create a wonderful natural attraction. Enjoy birding and the WMNF's gorgeous waterfalls.
